UPFEST PRESENTS

17th May - 2nd June: This year, Upfest returns as UPFEST PRESENTS... a 17 day cultural programme. In place of our weekend festival in the park. UPFEST PRESENTS is at multiple venues across BS3 with free to attend workshops, live painting, artist talks, arts activities and Street Art Tours.

Use this map to identify the 170+ street pieces throughout Bedminster. For more details and further directions scan the QR code below to view on Google Maps. If you're here during the programme check out our exhibitions at the Upfest Gallery, Tobacco Factory, The Local and St Paul's Church Crypt (24th - 26th May). Visiting after the programme just head to the Upfest Gallery for all your Street Art needs. Introducing Mister Samo! Our 2024 UPFEST PRESENTS artists work can be found on the Studio Bar at Bristol Beer Factory. Working with spray paint and acrylics, Mister Samo has been painting since 2013 with a clear vision and focus on intersectional gender identity and community. Scan QR below for Mister Samo artwork.

Highlights for you to discover from UPFEST PRESENTS include our lead artists Audrey Kawasaki painting on the side of Souk Kitchen, Bristol very own Inkie who's back on Parsons Bakery, internationally renowned environmental and political painter Mau Mau who can be found popping up at multiple locations across Bedminster with his cheeky little foxes.

Travelling to UPFEST PRESENTS? Well hopefully you've jumped on board the UP-FIRST bus! A collaboration between First Bus, our sustainable transport partner, Bristol Street Art legend CHEO and UPFEST, scan the QR code next to the bus for travel information and tracking of Bristol's very first Street Art Bust! Upfest wouldn't be Upfest without our amazing charity partner NACOA (National Association for Children of Alcoholics), for over 15 years we've supported both financially and by giving them a platform to inform and support. NACOA provides information, advice and support for everyone affected by a parent's drinking and can be contacted confidentially on 0800 358 3456 or by visiting www.nacoa.org.uk

Finally, we'd just like to say a huge thank you to Arts Council England for their match funding which has helped us keep UPFEST as a free event and 'respect' to all our other amazing partners. Big LOVE to all our volunteers who this year have made it possible to host 225 artists and put on over 50 different types of workshops.
